Except for the Casa Brewer (Brewers' house), public (though privately owned), and with a wide schedule of opening hours, many of the buildings are private, and therefore only the outdoor areas can be examined.

The route includes the homes of Josefa Sert (in the 1920s, 1927) in Calle Vista (old town) and Casa Sert (in the 1930s to 1940s) in the same street, both in the city center. Both homes are on the street level, with large windows facing the yard, and with the street view from the city level. Both homes are also designed with a modernist style, with large windows facing the street, and with the street view from the city level.

The house of Josefa Sert (in the 1920s, 1927) in Calle Vista (old town) and Casa Sert (in the 1930s to 1940s) in the same street, both in the city center. Both homes are on the street level, with large windows facing the yard, and with the street view from the city level. Both homes are also designed with a modernist style, with large windows facing the street, and with the street view from the city level.

The route of the modernist houses is divided into two main parts. The first part includes the homes of Josefa Sert (in the 1920s, 1927) in Calle Vista (old town) and Casa Sert (in the 1930s to 1940s) in the same street, both in the city center. Both homes are on the street level, with large windows facing the yard, and with the street view from the city level. Both homes are also designed with a modernist style, with large windows facing the street, and with the street view from the city level. The second part of the route includes the homes of Josefa Sert (in the 1920s, 1927) in Calle Vista (old town) and Casa Sert (in the 1930s to 1940s) in the same street, both in the city center. Both homes are on the street level, with large windows facing the yard, and with the street view from the city level. Both homes are also designed with a modernist style, with large windows facing the street, and with the street view from the city level.

The route of the modernist houses is divided into two main parts. The first part includes the homes of Josefa Sert (in the 1920s, 1927) in Calle Vista (old town) and Casa Sert (in the 1930s to 1940s) in the same street, both in the city center. Both homes are on the street level, with large windows facing the yard, and with the street view from the city level. Both homes are also designed with a modernist style, with large windows facing the street, and with the street view from the city level. The second part of the route includes the homes of Josefa Sert (in the 1920s, 1927) in Calle Vista (old town) and Casa Sert (in the 1930s to 1940s) in the same street, both in the city center. Both homes are on the street level, with large windows facing the yard, and with the street view from the city level. Both homes are also designed with a modernist style, with large windows facing the street, and with the street view from the city level.

The route of the modernist houses is divided into two main parts. The first part includes the homes of Josefa Sert (in the 1920s, 1927) in Calle Vista (old town) and Casa Sert (in the 1930s to 1940s) in the same street, both in the city center. Both homes are on the street level, with large windows facing the yard, and with the street view from the city level. Both homes are also designed with a modernist style, with large windows facing the street, and with the street view from the city level. The second part of the route includes the homes of Josefa Sert (in the 1920s, 1927) in Calle Vista (old town) and Casa Sert (in the 1930s to 1940s) in the same street, both in the city center. Both homes are on the street level, with large windows facing the yard, and with the street view from the city level. Both homes are also designed with a modernist style, with large windows facing the street, and with the street view from the city level.
THE MUSEUM OF CONTEMPORARY ART/MUSEUM FÜR ZEITGESCHICHTLICHE KUNST

The Museum of Contemporary Art (MACe) was founded in 1989 and was one of the first museums to focus on contemporary art in the Spanish-speaking world. It is located in the historic center of Alicante, in the heart of the city's cultural life. The MACe houses a collection of contemporary art that covers a wide range of contemporary art movements and styles.

More Suggestions/Weiter Vorschläge

In the vicinity of the MACe, you will find several popular spots and contemporary art museums. For example, the Museum of Contemporary Art (MACe) is located just across the street from the Cathedral of Santa Maria, which is one of the most important historical and cultural sites in the city. The MACe also has a large collection of contemporary art from the 19th and 20th centuries, including works by prominent artists such as Pablo Picasso and Salvador Dalí.

In conclusion, the Museum of Contemporary Art (MACe) is a must-visit destination for anyone interested in contemporary art. It offers a unique opportunity to explore the evolution of contemporary art in the Spanish-speaking world and to discover the latest trends and movements in the art world.